preventing disease across the world by strengthening the body's immune system

FREEDOM FROM DISEASE AND ILLNESS

DVD Health Seminar (2-hr disk)

The information in this 2 hour DVD provides the basics for a mind-opening reality check of what good health and nutrition is REALLY all about.

Ronald K. Schneider, an immunoenzymologist and 2001 Nobel Prize nominee in medicine and science, presents fundamental information about how our wonderful bodies are SUPPOSED to digest food and utilize nutrients, the important role enzymes play in all our bodily functions, and the real cause for some common medical ailments from which most people suffer. Consider this DVD to be that important first step toward learning how to prevent disease and degenerative conditions from occurring in your body. You will find Ronald K. Schneider's approach to be very factual and direct, as his goal is for you to learn and utilize the information he has been sharing with the heads of state of just about every country in the civilized world.
